It's Turkey Time!

How to make a drumstick:

Trim the top of a brown paper lunch bag so that it's about 7 inches tall. Smooth the bag around your fist to shape it, then stuff it with newspaper or scrap paper. For the bone, unfold two white napkins and crumple one of them into a ball. Drape the second napkin over the ball and twist it to form the narrow part of the bone. Insert this end into the paper bag, tighten the bag around it, and secure with tape.

To play the Drumstick Hunt game:

One person hides the drumstick (or drumsticks) while the others close their eyes. If you're playing with more than one drumstick, have each player sit down as soon as they find one. The person who found the first drumstick gets to hide them in the next round. Everyone can play this game!

Share stories. Thanksgiving is the perfect time to share family stories across generations. Listening to these stories will help your child connect with an extended family history.
