Try this at home:

Do a "Stretched-Out Story" with your child. Say, "I'm going to tell you a story, but some of the words will sound a little different. I'm going to stretch-out some of the words so you can hear all of the sounds in the words. It's your job to put the words back together." Tell any story, stretching a few ww-oo-rr-dd-z and pausing after the stretched-out word. Your child will learn how words are made up of letter sounds.

Rub-a-Dub-Dub

Rub-a-dub-dub, one child in the tub.
(Rub your hands on your arms)
Tell me what you see.

One foot with toes, two hands, a nose,
(Point to foot, hands, nose)
As clean as clean can be.

Rub-a-dub-dub, one child in the tub.
(Rub your hands on your arms)
Tell me what you see.

Legs and arms, so clean and warm,
Do they have a hug for me?
(Point to legs, arms, then give yourself a hug)

After My Bath

After my bath I try, try, try
To rub with a towel till I'm dry, dry, dry.
(Pretend to rub body with towel)

Hands to dry, and fingers and toes,
And two wet legs and a shiny nose.
(Point to named body parts)

Just think how much less time I'd take
If I were a dog and could shake, shake, shake!
(Shake body)
